I. INTRODUCTION

As we all know in this era of globalization developments give a tremendous impact on the sovereignty of the state where the mastery of a country with a long ways through direct war path had been left to change the war strategy indirectly by mastering life is multidimensional. Soldiers and advanced weaponry no longer the monopoly of violence against humanity, but rather do the devices previously imagined civilians. Phenomena is then that the term which is better known as Asymmetric War.

At the lowest level of existence and the role of the Army as a territorial Trustees in order to realize the space, tools and conditions of the fighting is not a new thing in the life of the nation and the State tat Indonesia. As Trustees of the territorial army together elements of the military and government actually shoulder the duty and responsibility together to create conditions conducive to the survival of national development activities.

The growing level of threat prompted the military to immediately clean up the attitude of the people always criticize and discredit the military in a position sandwiched and dilemma TNI as if detached from the people, addressing the situation develops so rapidly confronted with the readiness of the region that had been divina by regional military commands, so in this case territorial guidance functions become more important given the opposition and the dynamics of life in the area can open up opportunities for the creation of destabilizing security vulnerabilities. Therefore, the holding of the Binter Binter is important to realize the function to serve as a strong foundation for the creation of resiliency and also can simultaneously support Sishanta interests.

In the execution of daily tasks Babinsa confronted with problems related to society therefore needs to be given Babinsa special education in the field of territorial demands. Babinsa number of personnel in each Koramil still very limited, while the duties of the target region is vast and complex so that the affairs of the Agency Koramil frequently also be Babinsa. Besides, most of the region Babinsa have more responsibility is greater. The noncommissioned officer in carrying out his duties, it is generally not understood in detail about the scope of the guidance territorial responsibility. Quality Babinsa currently possessed by individuals considered good,

Duties Territories village level noncommissioned In Keeping Resilience Territory in Kodim 0810 Nganjuk still considered weak so that the empowerment of the region is not optimal, such as not creating togetherness apparatus territorial and community in maintaining security in the region, the lack of optimum mutual understanding and togetherness and community participation to participate in support the creation of a sense of security and comfort in the area. Conducting a limited budget so the implementation Binter Binter in preparing potential of the region in the interests of the defense system cannot be implemented optimally.

II. LITERATURE REVIEW

A. Theory of Public Policy

Dye in Islamic (2004: 18), defined as any public policy chosen by the government to do or not do. Furthermore, Dye said that if the government chooses to do something that it has no purpose (objective) and the discretion of the state government should include all actions be not merely an expression of interest is not the government or government officials only. Besides, something not done by any government including the discretion of the state. This is because "something was done" by the government will have an effect equal to the "something done" by the government.

B. Territorial Development Concepts

Said (2002) explains that the implementation of the territorial function implemented territorial activities consist of activities of territorial development and territorial operations. Territorial development actions are joint military activities of the people to work together in improving the welfare of society in order to materialize resiliency and sensitivity of the community in the field of national defense. Territorial development carried out continuously in areas that directly benefit the community and have a correlation with the aspect of national defense. While the territorial operations are military activities with the people in improving territorial development activities are limited goals, completion time, number of personnel, equipment and funds.

C. The concept of the village level noncommissioned and Regional Resilience

➤ Village level noncommissioned

Babinsa is a too long from the village level noncommissioned under Koramil (Mustafa, 2008: 35). Babinsa is implementing the territorial management dealing directly with rural communities and with all problem full pluri potency.

➤ Regional resilience

Fostering Resilience region, are all efforts and activities associated with the planning, preparation, development, deployment and control in order to realize the resilience of the dynamic in a region with increased sensitivity, awareness, and public participation in warding off any threat, interference, obstacles and challenges endanger the sovereignty and territorial integrity (Bakti Bujuknik TNI, 2004).

Implementation method of Bhakti TNI as a form of territorial development, especially in the execution of tasks Territories village level noncommissioned In Keeping Resilience Territory in Kodim 0809 Kediri can also be said to be doing well because Kodim able mengimplementasikaannya in accordance with what is stated in Skep KASAD No. 98 / V / Date 16 May 2007 on territorial development.

❖ Factors that inhibit and promote the execution of tasks Territories village level noncommissioned In Keeping Regional Resilience in Kodim 0809 Kediri

A. Internal Resources and the limited facilities and infrastructure in Binter

The results showed the implementation of coaching teritorial conducted constrained the ability of apparatus be a good communicator and portray themselves as protectors of society and the limited facilities / infrastructure used to support the work of staff Kodim and operational activities of the tasks of the Kodim, incomplete completeness communication tools and means for mobility members, therefore, hindering from the aspect of readiness for operation, but from the aspect of community development is certainly good enough condition for indirect Kodim personnel have been fused with the environment that is society.

One of the efforts that determine the success of the empowerment of the territorial authorities in support of the management of defense is applied in Kodim 0809 is the availability of facilities and infrastructure that support the establishment of an implementation of the duties and functions of the District Military Command in maintaining the defense area. Supporting infrastructure required physical and nonphysical includes use of devices for purposes of military operations of war (OMP) and military operations other than war (MOOTW) according to the level given to the Kodim unit. Complete Kediri District Military Command unit with base facilities include office buildings, housing, conference hall, meeting rooms, buildings / sports facilities, terrain and exercises, as well as the necessary infrastructure for the development unit and the performance of its duties. Needs of facilities / infrastructure such bases are used in order to support the work of the staff Kodim and operational activities of the duties of the District Military Command, so that the working mechanism can work as a real need. However, there are problems faced by Kodim from this aspect and greatly affect its performance that is the base for a place to stay for a missing Kodim personnel, mostly from Kodim personnel were outside the base. Therefore, this hinders the readiness aspects of the operation, but from the aspect of community development is certainly good enough condition for indirect Kodim personnel have been fused with the environment that is society. This is by the commander can be used as a potential to maintain relationships with people in the region. The theory behind the theory of convenience, the theory of the tool, facilities theory, and the theory of priority. This theory is used to see the importance of defense capabilities possessed by a nation in empowering territorial authorities in support of defense management.

B. External coordination with relevant agencies, as well as the weak level of education and socio-cultural for the people in the territory

In the external field in the form of implementation Binter Duties Territories village level noncommissioned In Keeping in Kodim 0809 Regional Resilience is not apart from the lack of coordination and transparency issues while in other areas is weak level of formal education is not adequate community, moreover with a strong community culture custom Java. Duties Territories village level noncommissioned In Keeping Regional Resilience in Kodim 0809 should be supported by the ability to master the region is to follow developments in society that includes political, economic, social, cultural, religious and psychology for the determination of the things that can impede the course of development and participate in moving the development planning and implementation. In addition to the ability territorial foregoing a Babinsa must have five Territorial capabilities that are always remembered and implemented, then the ability in question is the ability to Quick Meet Fast Report, Territorial Management Capability, Regional Mastery Ability, Capability Development Guidance of the People, and Social Communication Capabilities used to minimize threats in the field of regional resilience related to existing socio-cultural communities.
